WEDNESDAY, MARCH 5.

The Capital will remain at Frankfort. The removal bill was killed in the Senate.

The redistricting committee has had an unpleasant duty and consequently met in a very hasty manner.

The bill which the Local Option people have been pushing has passed both branches of the Legislature.

Only a few days for the Legislature to wind up and end up all its troubles, except to answer for its deeds.

The Interior Journal notes the fact that Booker was to see "Teddy" a few days ago, but no eating was in it.

A mining camp in Colorado was destroyed last week by a heavy slide of snow and fifty to seventy-five lives lost.

They are after Prince Henry. A suspicious character tried to enter his car at Jersey City last week and was arrested.

Twenty-seven States have expressed themselves in favor of electing United States Senators by popular vote.

United States will make no effort to have Turkey return to this Government the sum of $72,500, ransom paid for Miss Stoen's release.

Clarence Shipp, who was acquitted at Lebanon ten days ago, upon a murder charge, has married his sixteen year-old cousin, who was killed in his favor.

Demagogue, if you want a weekly paper that will keep you posted on the great questions affecting our political conditions, subscribe for The Commuter. The News and Commuter one year for $1.65.

The Schley-Sampson trouble has been disposed of. The Tillman-Laurin encounter has been settled in the Senate and Prince Henry will soon be back in the Old World. There's relief for the readers of the daily rapers.

The latest effort—J. Pierpont Morgan on his paper stating and so $2,000,000 to St. James University. His system of collecting money reimburses him for this and yet he will be called a philanthropist. "What fools we mortals be."

We stand ready to denounce any violence at all times, but if a drunken white hoodlum needs slugging and speedily it is John Cox, of Bath county. Because and ineffective colored men did not have a chew of tobacco to smother him he drew his pistol and shot him dead.

The L. & N. Railroad Company has decided to put in a fine depot at Bowling Green and work will begin in the near future. Electric railway lines are also under contemplation by the people of that city and the probability is that Bowling Green will experience a great business awakening before 1902 passes.

We trust that the Legislature will pass the bill imposing a heavy fine for the docking of horses, but the measure goes too far, in our judgment, when it seeks to impose a fine for shipping horses outside of the State to be docked. Docking can not be justified. It is painful to animals, the time and worst of all, destroys the only means of defense against the in after years.

Kentuckians may have their faults, but one thing may be said, and truly said, in praise of the Commonwealth: There's no more on our soil for the bloody shirt. Wednesday when the bill, provided by an ex-Confederate, for a state appropriation for a Confederate soldiers' home, came up in the Senate, a Republican member, who was a fighter for the Union, made an earnest appeal for its passage. "Honorable," he said, "the men who followed the stars and bars to defeat as I do the men who followed the stars and stripes to victory?" The next speaker was himself a Republican and a Federal veteran who served four years in the ranks. He, too, favored the bill. It passed the upper branch of the assembly without a dissenting vote. From present indications the measure will meet a similar reception in the house. Where else in these United States, save in Kentucky, would such a bill have been so treated.—Paducah Democrat.

The United States Department of Agriculture gives the following summary of the condition of winter wheat in the United States at the close of January. The reports respecting winter wheat are generally unfavorable except in Kansas and Nebraska, where the outlook is encouraging, although in the first named State the crop has been too closely grazed in some sections. All winter wheat is suffering, with little or no snow protection during the greater part of the month, in the Mississippi and Ohio valleys and middle Atlantic States, proved very unfavorable to winter wheat. A considerable area in Kentucky and Tennessee is such unpromising condition that it will be plowed up and devoted to other crops. The general outlook for winter wheat on the Pacific coast is encouraging.

The Kentucky House, following the Senate's example, last Thursday passed the Furber bill, which makes more difficult the granting of the local option laws. A Governor must license a man prima facie evidence of guilt, "C. O. D." shipments are made illegal, and the man who rents a place for use as a "blind tiger" is made equally guilty with a man who runs a saloon. The house adopted a resolution recommending the removal of Sgt. Cook, of the House of Representatives at Lexington, for an alleged insult to the House. The Governor sent to the Senate his order of removal of three Hopkinsville asylum commissioners, and the appointment of their successors was confirmed.

Memorial services in honor of William McKinley were held last Thursday in the hall of the House of Representatives in Washington. Secretary Hay pronounced a fitting eulogy on the man who had called him to be his premier, linking together in impressive manner in his peroration the names of Washington, Lincoln and McKinley. In the distinguished assembly that listened to the Secretary were the President, Prince Henry of Prussia, members of the Cabinet, the Justices of the Supreme Court, army and navy officers, members of the Senate and House and the diplomatic corps.

The British gained another victory over the Boers on February 27th, the anniversary of the battle of Mafeking. Fully six hundred Boers killed or captured, a large supply of cattle, sheep and horses and 50,000 rounds of ammunition taken. It may be that the South African Republic may die almost in sight of freedom, it may be that man's inhumanity to man may stir the noble impulses of some nation that loves freedom and send out a Lafayette to assist those noble people against English greed and tyranny.

The members of the Salvation Army claim that they fight their Lord only, but a little affair at Bowling Green, last week, contradicts the statement. C. H. Adams and Forest Malone, two members, quarreled while services were going on, and to settle the dispute they went outside and Malone was shot in the left side.

The Senate committee having the matter in charge have completed the investigation of the prisoners and find that not only is there nothing wrong, but that the administration is the best the State has ever had.

Hon. John H. Tillman, who is Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina, recalls the invitation of President Roosevelt to be at the Charleston Exposition and present a sword to Major Jenkins, who was one of the "Rough Riders." The Governor says he regrets the opportunity for the sword, but was compelled to this act by the people who bought the sword. The Lieutenant Governor is a nephew of Senator Ben Tillman, whose invitation to dine at the White House with Prince Henry was with drawn after the Tillman-McLanin fight. South Carolina has never received a blow or an insult that she did not resent. Her present generation is made of the same stern stuff of the Sumpters who fought the armies of King George.

In the hall of the House of Representatives, in the presence of the Congress and a distinguished audience, including the President and Prince Henry, Secretary of State John Hay delivered an eloquent eulogy of McKinley.

As Prince Henry passed through Kentucky he was presented by the citizens of Bowling Green with a case of whiskey. There's many a man when he takes a drink thinks of Old Kentucky.

Fifteen thousand people in Louisville saw the Prince but the Princes moved on.

Young fruit trees should be mulched with a straw before hot weather comes. If you have trees planted some days or two tending south and you will not regret it.

In another column "The Farmer's Friend Corn drill" advertised. It is sold by Wheat & Williams, Montpelier, Ark. county. The firm sold quite a number last season and they gave perfect satisfaction. Farmers are invited to examine this drill before buying some other make.

We have not heard from the debating society in this town for some time, yet we presume that it is in operation. Don't let it die young men. Set a time and debate some interesting question before the public in the court house.

Dr. George Hann, who resided at Shelby City, Boyle county, died suddenly at his late residence Tuesday of last week. The deceased was one of the best known physicians in the business section and was a very excellent man. He was about 73 years old and leaves a wife and quite a number of children. Mr. A. Hann, of Columbia, being one of the number.

Some parties passed through town Monday night, just from church we presume, riding a lively gal and hallooing "rip, yip, yip." It is a strange thing that some men do not know how to behave or if they do, have not the courage to do so. Howlaway does not escape the opportunity of a joke and a moral standing detestable to self-respecting people. A town Marshall should be elected and done marching.

The company to build an electric line from Glasgow to Burdsville has completed its organization and elected officers. The distance is forty miles and about one-half of the right of way has been secured. We are never sure of an extension of the cost of this line, but it is believed that it can be built for something less than one million dollars. Should it cost so much it would probably be a paying investment in course of time.

A frightful runaway occurred at Milltown one day last week. Jimmie, a little son of Mr. J. R. Tutt, was on horse back and for some cause the animal became scared and started in full speed. The boy was thrown from his saddle, his foot hanging in the stirrup, and as the horse proceeded he leaped, fence and several logs and finally Jimmie's foot was released and he fell to the ground, unhurt. Those who witnessed the sight expected the child to be killed.

Last week Thomas Ward and a Miss Hines, who live on upper Russell's creek, Green county, eloped to Tennessee and were married. The parents of the young lady were very much opposed to the union, and had kept a watch on the girl for several months. The day she left home she entered the family room with a sack well-filled, telling her mother that it contained feathers, and if she had no objections, she would step over to the neighboring store and sell them. Consent was given and the girl walked out. She did not have feathers in the sack, but clothing, and after walking a few hundred yards she met her lover, who was a consensual runaway and they were off. An attempt was made to secure homes at Lebanon, but the girl being under age, the couple pulled for Tennessee on the idea that their lovers are wanted regardless of age.

We have heard much complaint of the condition of the pike between Columbia and Campbellville and as evidence of its bad condition the people of this town have been paying an extra wagon charge of 10c per hundred pounds. In many places heavy loaded wagons go through and they are not able to pull the load. The heavy loads are on good pike. By reason of the bad condition of the pike our male has been late for several days. We believe in perfectly fair treatment and to our mind this section is not receiving it. If legal tolls are collected then the condition of the road should be up to the standard prescribed by law. If the road is not up to legal requirements then a reduction of tolls should follow. It is a bad condition when wagons are forced to pay the same price as a male and when the road is so bad that it is in good condition. If the road is not up to the legal standard and the toll will be paid accordingly.

The Meeting.

The meeting conducted in the Methodist church in this town, by Rev. W. H. Harney, in point of attendance too large for the church, for it is an overflow congregation at every service. The preacher indulged in what we term, "hot shot remarks," denouncing different forms of vice in plain English and virtually spoke to the face of his hearers as if to say, thou art a guilty party, and then makes unusually strong appeals for reformation. Quite an interest is manifested and the probability of a great revival—a spiritual awakening of this town does not seem improbable.

The singing is unusually good and Mr. Roberson, who is with the Kwanleto to assist him, has this part of the work. His voice is strong and clear and full of music. Go out to the meeting and hear a gifted man tell the "wonderful story of love" and the other to exhort you with the melodies that arouse the noble impulses that have slumbered so long within your breast.

Mr. W. L. Grady advertises his stock in this issue. His efforts to improve the grade of horse flesh in this section of the country is well known and appreciated by a large majority of our people. His horse—Jordan Peacock—has not only distinguished himself in the great show ring, but he has won many blue ties as any horse in Southern Kentucky, but as a breeder he stands in the front ranks, his colts selling from $100 to $2,000. His breeding is superb and as an individual he is a model. Mr. Grady is a gentleman who will do you right and if you have any stock you wish to entrust to his care just send to him and you will find everything to come up correct.

In last week's issue we called attention to our large and well assorted stock of prime stationary and stated that we had 100,000 sheets of letter and note paper, but the compositor made a slip and it read 10,000 sheets. This is the company that has many knobs but in this case it is desiring for we have the goods. Our stock of linens and bonds will exceed 60,000 and we have a large stock of the best grade, color, size or quality of envelope needed in this section can be secured at this office at fair prices. Give us your order and we will please you.

Messrs. M. Craven and W. F. Jeffries made a trip to Powersboro, Wayne Co. last week and made contract for the drilling of Well No. 2, for the Columbia Oil Co. This well will be drilled a short distance from the first one and is being drilled by the same two other companies are now fixing to test that section with 2500 foot holes and if deep drilling proves profitable it is the intention of the Columbia Company to go to a paying depth, hence the starting of a large hole.

Mr. C. H. Murrell, the traveling representative of the News, had a thrilling experience last Friday between Russell Springs and Jamestown. He was en route to last place when suddenly a storm was on him and it came with such fury as to destroy fences and break down trees. He quickly led his horse and took refuge in a house expecting harm to come to his faithful steed but the blast was over in a few minutes and Spauld went forward.

Mr. W. S. Griffin left an order with us for his advertising his son which will stand at Cave Valley. His stallion, Red Bird, is so well known in this section as to need no commendation from us. He is a fine individual and his breeding superior, being an inbred Lexington. His colts are ample advertisements of his worth as a breeder. Mr. Griffin also has the C. M. Breeding farm, one of the best in all the country. This stock may be seen on Mr. Griffin's farm near Cave Valley, at any time.

The examining trial of Joe Dorelli for the shooting of William Sharp several days ago, was held before Judge T. A. Murrell last Saturday and in the same trial the charge against Prof. Spencer as an accessory was also heard. There were a good number of witnesses and the trial consumed the larger part of the day. After a full investigation Judge Murrell dismissed the case against the accused which, evidently meets the approbation of those who heard the testimony.

Mr. J. O. Russell, of this city, in preparing at his own expense, to have the Presbyterian church repaired, and some other necessary work will be done. The material has been ordered and as soon as it arrives paper hangers will be put to work on the interior in panels, and when finished the interior of the building will present a handsome appearance.

Miss Nellie Burdett, of Glasgow, a young lady who visited in Adair county last fall, met with a very painful accident last week. She was out riding when her animal reared up and Miss Burdett, after her balance, fell to the ground. The horse stepped on the side of her head, cutting a severe gash. The young lady is not seriously hurt.

The tobacco market was active last week. After a season of inactivity demand was taken at satisfactory prices. The indications are that both the Louisville and Cincinnati markets will be more active this spring than usual.

Upon the first page of the News is an interesting letter from Miss Mary Harris, a young lady well-known in this community. She recently returned from a trip to the home of Jefferson and other places in the old Dominion.

Marriage License.

The following marriage license were issued during the month of February: Chas. H. Sandusky to Maud Sutton. Hugh Shaw to Lida Demunbrum. Evan Yates to Anna M. Fletcher. John M. Curry to E. Lee Burton. F. Talmage Smith to Valeria McLean.

Joseph Allen to Alice Rowe.

Burt H. Jones to Sarah H. Jones.

H. L. Thompson to Elma Semerfield Hill.

Last week the News man, seeking items of interest, took to the town, interviewing various parties, but no one had heard of anything worth mentioning finally he was told by a good business man that he did not know any news, had not heard anything and could not suggest anything of worth for the human race. Well, some people would find it a difficult matter to get good fresh news from such opportunities.

We understand that Mr. Fred Hancock, this place, has accepted a position to travel for a Cincinnati shoe house. He is a popular young man of good habits, and will doubtless build up a large trade. He will soon take the road and we commend him to the merchants of the territory assigned him.

Monday was county court day and a good crowd was in town. Business in all lines was fairly good. Several hogs and male buyers were here but not many sales made. There were no mules offered for sale than have been offered on this market for a long while, but the buyers would not pay the prices asked, so the most of them were back to their stables.

Mr. L. H. Cabell, who lives near Camp Knox, Green county, was in a critical condition all last week, and his family and friends were very uneasy concerning him. He was taken very suddenly and was delirious for several days. At this writing his condition has slightly improved, though the danger line is not yet passed.

Mr. L. V. Hall has made a heating stove of galvanized iron which is now being sold at a low price. He is of the opinion that it will prove better in point of durability than the regular sheet iron. It never gets red hot, but it does not burn the coals in galvanized coils return.

The sermon Monday night, delivered by Rev. Mr. Harney on the attempt to destroy the Jewish church, was one of interest, full of force and strongly impressing the importance of our everling faith. We trust great good will come from his efforts to the people of this town.

For cold and disagreeable weather February was a corker. Let us hope that the back bone of Winter has been broken and that we will have fine sunny days. Farmers are anxious to get their ground ready for corn.

B. F. Neath has 125 barrels of corn for sale.

LIBERTY.

A large crowd attended county court last Monday. Ex Sheriff, T. J. Bell, sold a number of tracts of land for taxes.

The wife of Mr. John B. Brown died on Sunday, Feb. 23. Funeral services were conducted at the residence on Tuesday morning by Eld. J. Q. Montgomery, and the body was taken to the Hartsville cemetery and interred.

The State Superintendent of Public Instruction has decided that the recent adoption of school books by the board of examiners for Casey county was illegal, the time for making such adoption having expired and that the present series of text books would continue to be used for the next five years.

Mr. Anderson Nunnally and Miss Annie Taylor, both of McKiney, were married at Middleboro on Wednesday, Feb. 20th, by Eld. J. Q. Montgomery. Mr. Conlier White and Miss Sallie Ballie accompanied them.

Judge Bates issued warrants of arrest for Joe Vain, Gardfield Wheeler, Wallace Singleton and Virgil Sweeney, all of this city, for disturbing the poultry trail. All were arrested except one, who escaped. They were given an examining trial and bound over to Circuit Court under one hundred dollars a piece.

The many friends of Mr. A. U. Taylor, of Danville, are grieved to learn that he is very ill with pneumonia.

Miss Amanda Stone entertained on Wednesday evening and a goodly crowd of young people spent a very pleasant evening.

Mr. Abe Reins has accepted a position as night clerk at the Glimmer House in Danville and left to enter upon his duties.

Mr. James Wesley and Mrs. Melissa Adams are visiting in Lexington.

Miss Florence Tanner, of McKiney, was here visiting in town and country for a few days.

T. J. Davidson, of Columbia, was in Liberty last Sunday.

The Fiddlers' contest, on Wednesday night, drew a large crowd to the Court House and some of the best musicians of the fiddle and the bow were present and contested. The judges, Miss Florence Tanner and Messrs. John B. Whipple and James Woods, gave the first prize to Mr. Thomas Edwards, of Cave Creek. Lewis brothers, of Parisville, were second, and Dr. Bertha interested the crowd with some splendid music after the contest had closed.

JORDON PEACOCK, The Best Stallion in Kentucky.

Will make the season at Gradyville and will serve mares at the low price of ten dollars to insure a mare with foal. Money due when the fact is ascertained or mare traded or removed from the neighborhood. Jordan Peacock has proven himself to be one of the best breeders in Kentucky. His colts have all been sold at 8-years-old and over at prices from $100 to $2,000. As all the old ones are sold, horse men are now buying them at two-years-old at fancy prices. If you want a colt that will bring more money than you ever sold one for, breed your mares to Jordan Peacock and you are sure to get it. Every colt guaranteed to be sound or no pay.

My Fine Jacks.

I will also stand two first-class jacks at $6.00 to insure a mare in foal. Money due when the fact is ascertained or mare traded or removed. All care to prevent accidents but I will not be responsible if any occur. Good grass at 50 cents a week.

MCKINNEY.

I will say for this locality that I was never in a more hospitable neighborhood. Every one seems to be willing to lend a helping hand to those in need or in distress. That being the case, I don't see why McKinney should not be heard from once and awhile through your columns, and if this does not find its lodging place in the waste basket, I will try to report occasionally.

The people of this place are more than anxious for the railroad spoken of from Scottsville to the Cincinnati Southern, and will do all in their power to have it tap the Southern at this place.

CLOYD'S LANDING.

Message: R. J. Gray and Albert Gray visited C. J. Gray's, of Bluff Landing, Sunday.

The river is low and barely navigable.

Mrs. Irene Chappell, of Monroe county, is visiting relatives here.

John H. Cary has sold his house and lot to Carrel Collins for $120.

D. C. Lewis has bought a half interest in J. P. Allen's store at Arat. The style of the new firm will be Allen & Lewis.

Back & Edmonson are closing out their stock of goods at Marrowbone and will go out of business.

J. Frank Paul will go into the mercantile business at Marrowbone.

We are expecting an oil company to go to drilling here soon. There were some wells drilled in this vicinity before the war which were closed down on account of the war; all these wells were said to be good producers. One of them is said to have yielded a thousand barrels a day.

It seems that an era of prosperity is dawning upon Cumberland county. The oil strike at Reno and prospects for more oil and a railroad, make the outlook for this county bright.

James Thomas, the nine-year-old daughter of Walter Thomas, a farmer, started from her home to the village of South Mills for some household duty. On her way she slipped and fell into a deep ditch. Dead by the fall she dropped a tin bucket she carried. The child was unable to get out and remained in the ditch five hours. A neighbor man saw the bucket in the ditch and going into the ravine to investigate its contents, found the child already frozen. The negro carried the child to her home and she is in a precarious condition. Her nose and her fingers were frozen and her breath is expected.

In the Circuit Court at Kansas

Frank James has been granted an application for an injunction to stop the production of "The James Boys in Missouri," a play depicting the James boys as train robbers and bank looters, and which has been playing at a local theater. The injunction proceedings were brought by Frank James, his mother, Mrs. Zephira Samuels, and his stepfather, Dr. Reuben Samuels. James' petition alleges that the play was harmful to the youth of the country, that it glorified outlawry and made heroes of outlaws, and said that it unjustly revived a reputation that he had been trying to live down for thirty years.

Three children of John Thompson, of Bath county, were instantly killed and the mother and another child were fatally injured by the accidental explosion of a keg of black powder. Thompson was moving and a keg of powder was among some things he put in the kitchen temporarily. The children were rather old and the family room being without fire, one was started in the kitchen stove. The children were playing around the room, and in some manner one of them dropped a coal of fire in the keg of powder. Instantly there was a terrible explosion and the roof was lifted from the house. When the smoke had cleared away three little bodies, which were mangled beyond recognition, were picked up, while the mother and another child were more dead than alive. The dead children were aged eleven, eight and three years.

Thirteen young men were convicted in Russell county, Va., for the murder of Jack Osborne, and given prison terms ranging from one to eighteen years.

STAT NEWS.

Arthur Collins, a Trimble county farmer, was crushed to death while filling a tree.

Shirley Spaulding, aged 56 years, and Annie Greenwall, aged 16, were married at Waddy.

Tate Lambert, of Lawrence county, was killed by falling stone in a coal mine at Digues, W. Va.

Robert Reed, of Jackson, is dead as the result of a blow on the head. He was struck with a pick by Deriah Hagins.

Richard Lee, a well-known farmer and stock dealer, of Bath county, died of blood poison, caused by a calf biting him on the finger.

A three-year-old child of Milton Alexander, of Monticello, was burned to death, its clothing having caught fire at a grate.

R. R. Hall, of Montgomery county, has been married 33 years and has never spent a night away from home during that time.

Lee Turner, who owned the notorious "Quarter House," the scene of the recent battle in Bell county, surrendered at La Follette, Tenn.

Gov. Beckham has offered a reward for the arrest and conviction of the "Quarter House" gang who killed Deputy Sheriff Cecil in Bell county.

John Doyle, who was a member of the Bell county Sheriff's posse in the "Quarter House" fight, is dead, making the seventh victim of the battle.

While carefully handling an old pistol the 12-year-old son of George Baker, of Madison county, was accidentally shot. Death was instantaneous.

While Clinton Murray, son of D. F. Murray, of Edmonson, was playing with a pistol, the weapon accidentally exploded, inflicting a serious wound.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Key, of Irvine, was seized with a fit and fell into the fire with her babe. The child was burned to death and the mother is in a critical condition.

Mr. Jas. S. Litwog, ex-Mayor of Louisville, one of the city's oldest citizens, and a successful manufacturer, died Friday morning, in the 51st year of his age.

At Bardonia Elijah Hazel was given a term of seven years in the penitentiary for murder. Hazel, while an inmate of the county poor farm, shot and killed the superintendent, William Hill, last fall, and barely escaped being mobbed at the time.

Mrs. Lucy W. Barron, of Barren county, and her son, Frank, aged twenty-one, both died of pneumonia at Kestley, Ala., last week, the mother dying three hours after the son. Mrs. Barron went to Alabama three weeks before to nurse her son, but was taken ill shortly after her arrival.

A big delegation of citizens, representing Frankfort's commercial and industrial interests, met with Louisville's business men Friday and made an appeal for the support of that city in Frankfort's efforts to keep the Capitol, and also for an appropriation for new State buildings. A resolution was adopted by the Louisville gathering calling on the Legislature to erect a new Capitol at Frankfort.

Rev. J. B. Cupepper, a Methodist evangelist, inaugurated a sensation at Mt. Sterling, where he was conducting a revival. He announced that the meeting would close on Sunday evening. A theatrical company was to begin an engagement Monday evening and the evangelist remained over and held opposition services. When the brass band of the theatrical troupe appeared on parade, Mr. Cupepper followed with a band of children singing Sunday School songs.

The British government complains that its buyers were cheated in some of the purchases of horses and mules they bought in America for the use of the South Africa war.
